Topics Discussed:

In this meeting we went through the document that we created last week, and everyone introduced their part in order to be in synchronization with each other. Regarding the document, we also discussed a possible job distribution for further work which includes drawing the application sketches and finding all the use cases. The job distribution is not yet fully decided.

Regarding the preparation for coding the system, we continued to share our experiences with the technologies that we will use in the future, Symfony and React Native. For the mobile application, we decided that only Deni and Klesti will take part in the development, while for the Web Application, it will be a collective job between all 4 of us. We also brainstormed on the modules of the system and managed to get a first impression of what every module will look like.

For next week, we will continue to work on the document and try to wrap up the tutorials to be ready to start coding whenever necessary.
